An Khe Camp Shelled By Viet Cong Mortars

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The Viet Cong mortared and fired small arms into the base camp of the U.S. 1st Cavalry Division at An Khe, a U.S. military spokesman reported Sunday.

The attack consisted of about 80 mortar shells and considerable small arms fire. American casualties were described as light. Cavalry spokesman said seven Viet Cong dead had been counted.

The cavalry's camp is guarded by one of the division's three brigades while the other two brigades are in the field near Bong Son about 30 miles to the north.

A military spokesman said damage to the camp was not serious.

The camp is protected by thickly strung barbed wire and a mine field.

This is the first time it has been attacked since the cavalry moved into the position last September.

An Khe is 250 miles northeast of Saigon.

The possibility of Viet Cong mortaring has frequently been discussed, as almost all positions in the camp are within range of the enemy's 82 millimeter mortar tubes—including the tent of Maj. Gen. Harry W. O. Kinnard, division commander.

National Guard May Be Called Into Viet Action

LAUREL, Miss. (AP)—Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., said Saturday night the Viet Nam war may force a call-up of some National Guard units and Reservists.

In a talk before a civic club, Stennis said he expects the United States to have up to 400,000 troops in the field by the end of the year.

And, he added, "we must not overlook the very real possibility that our Communist enemies may start additional aggressions at other places around the world where our vital interests are involved."

Stennis, who is chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee's preparedness subcommittee, said the costs will rise into the tens of billions and increased taxes are certain.

It is too late, he said, to worry about whether we should be in Viet Nam.

"Our past and present commitment is such that we cannot now withdraw without dishonor to our national purpose and our national image," he said.

The Cavalry division's airfield, about two miles from camp, is one of the busier ones in Viet Nam. It handles the big C130's and 123's which fly in supplies from the seaport at Qui Nhon.

For one month now the cavalry division has been striking at the enemy along the coastal plains and the rolling foothills of central Viet Nam. This time the Viet Cong hit back.

The main mortaring was on the division's helicopter landing field known as "the golf course."

British Minister Resigns

LONDON (AP)—Fierce controversy over Britain's future military role in the world popped into public view Saturday with the resignation of Navy Minister Christopher Mayhew. Several top admirals also may quit.

Mayhew said the British are trying to do too much with too little and could end up tied to American policy as merely "auxiliaries" rather than allies.

He described government defense policy decisions as "dangerously mistaken."

This was the public climax to a secret struggle under way between the admirals, the air marshals and the politicians in preparing a government white paper outlining British military strategy through 1970. It is to be published Tuesday.

Defense Secretary Denis Healey is resolved to cut back by one-third, to an annual defense budget of two billion pounds—$5.6 billion—by 1970 and to reform British military strategy in the process. Something had to go under, and it appears to have been the demands of the once-proud Royal Navy.

The dispute lay between buying F111A long-range nuclear fighter-bombers from the United States or building a new aircraft carrier for about $196 million. The navy appears to have lost. The British military presence east of Suez now is expected to be reinforced by stationing the F111s on a chain of Indian Ocean islands bases instead of dispatching a more mobile, but sinkable, carrier force.

Several helicopters, some of them big troop carrying Chinooks, were damaged along with some vehicles.

The Viet Cong made a stab at penetrating the defense perimeter put were beaten back. It was reported that although casualties for the camp as a whole were light, moderate and heavy by the military, there were serious casualties inflicted on some small units.

The attack began just after midnight and lasted for almost two hours.

Defense measures included searchlights, flares and a heavy volume of machinegun and rifle fire.

Together with the probe at the camp perimeter, an attack was launched at a communications post on Hon Cong mountain, a peak that commands the area.

Apparently small Viet Cong suicide squads made several probes at various positions in the camp area, a tactic that is all too familiar to the U.S. Marine units stationed at Da Nang, 180 miles north of An Khe.

Da Nang has been probed, mortared and machinegunned several times since the arrival of the Marines.

All day Saturday helicopters poured thousands of U.S. Marines against Viet Cong in the Phouc Valley 350 miles northeast of Saigon. Striking through light fire, they hunted the enemy's hard core 1st Regiment.

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—The final weekend of Carnival gripped New Orleans Saturday with thousands of tourists pouring in to join the madness of Mardi Gras.

Mardi Gras, which turns festive New Orleans into a fantastic day-long mask and costume ball, comes up Tuesday.

The all-woman Krewe of Iris, riding parade floats that sparkled in the sun, rumbled through Saturday's midtown crowds under a brilliant blue sky—a welcome change after days of rain or threatening clouds.

Tourists included President Johnson's oldest daughter, Lynda Bird, spotted in the French Quarter's exuberant night club.

Flood Threat Remains

DAVENPORT, Iowa (AP)—An ice jam so big demolition experts estimated it would take one million pounds of TNT to break it remained wedged in a narrow Mississippi River channel Saturday.

The flood threat it posed to this city of 90,000 and to Rock Island, Ill., population about 55,000, across the river, remained constant with the water level about two feet above flood stage.

City officials mobilized for a serious flood threat as more ice jammed by near zero cold created the huge mass ever tighter into the channel, like the stopper in a bottle. More than 150 persons had been removed from residential areas near the river banks.

Officials of the Rock Island District Corps of Engineers said the jam, seven miles long, in the channel between the Iowa mainland and Enchanted Island south of here, was believed to be the largest on the upper Mississippi since the late 1800s.

Richard Gustafson, public information officer for the Corps of Engineers at Rock Island, said the jam is now solid to the bottom of the river.

Maj. Gen. Junior F. Miller, adjutant general of Iowa, said officials had discussed the possibility of dynamiting the jam but had given up the idea, at least for the present.

The only real chance of breaking the jam, Army engineers said, is a general thaw.

Jail Hungarians For Attempt To Overthrow Reds

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—A "large number" of Hungarians have been arrested on charges of conspiring, with Western help, to overthrow the Communist government, the Communist party paper Nepszabadsag announced Saturday.

It said they included "political criminals" imprisoned after the 1956 uprising against the Communist government and freed under a general amnesty in 1963.

The paper said they faced new trials and, if convicted, would be required to serve out their terms remaining at the time of the amnesty in addition to the new sentences. It said the accused plotted the government overthrow while still in prison.

Nepszabadsag identified some of the alleged plotters as Roman Catholic priests.

The Budapest announcement followed reports reaching the West last month of mass arrests in Hungary in the wake of sharp increases in food prices. Anti-government demonstrations were said to have broken out at the Czepl steel factory outside Budapest and the reports said 160 workers were arrested along with 100 others in other parts of the country. The reports were denied by the Hungarian government.

The Communist party paper did not say how many persons had been arrested. Under the amnesty of 1963, 2,500 to 3,000 persons were estimated to have been released from prisons. The paper said, however, a majority of these had stayed out of trouble.

The paper claimed that after the amnesty, those now under arrest "established contacts at home and abroad, and, with encouragement from the West, have again rigged up conspiratorial plans."

The account did not go into details of the alleged conspiracy, except that the accused were advised by their Western contacts to create internal opposition which eventually would result in a seizure of power "at a suitable time and change the social system."

Among the Catholic clergymen identified as alleged plotters was the Rev. Laszlo Ernoedy, who was imprisoned in 1961, released under the amnesty, then arrested again and sentenced to nine years imprisonment on charges of antistate crimes last year.

WASHINGTON: Secretary of State Dean Rusk tells the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that the fighting in Viet Nam is vital to show that the United States keeps its pledge and to teach the Chinese Reds that "they cannot redraw the boundaries of the world by force."

Humphrey

'Retreat Would Mean Defeat For Free Men'

CANBERRA, Australia (AP)—"The first time you retreat" before Communist aggression, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey declared Saturday, "the first time you fold up your tents, on that day no one will ever believe in free men again."

Speaking at a luncheon at which Prime Minister Harold Holt of Australia was host, the U.S. traveling vice president also declared that he felt every anti-Communist nation should be represented in Viet Nam, even by as small a presence as a single doctor. If there is such a symbolic presence showing unity, he added, "the Communist juggernaut will be halted."

During the day, Holt announced the Australian government is "actively" considering increasing the number of its troops in Viet Nam. He made the statement at a joint news conference with Humphrey after the vice president met his first hostile reception in a 21,000-mile journey that has taken him to six countries. He moves on to New Zealand Sunday.

Holt said the matter of more Australian troops for the Viet Nam war is "actively under consideration," but that no conclusions have been reached yet.

"We have been considering for some time whether more Australia can do in Viet Nam," Holt said. "We hope to announce soon what Australia can do to supplement our present forces in South Viet Nam."

Both Humphrey and Holt denied Humphrey put any pressure on Australia, but it was obvious the troop situation was a prime topic in their nearly three-hour discussion at Parliament House. At present, Australia has about 1,500 men in the Viet Nam field, most of them in a battalion of infantry which has seen considerable action against the Communists.

Pickets Waiting

About 150 demonstrators waited for Humphrey outside the low, rambling Parliament House with placards reading all the way from a mild "Peace for Viet Nam" to "Bomb Washington, D.C." One said "Humphrey war criminal."

Police said the demonstrators were a combination of leftist students, left-wing labor union leaders, pacifists and anticommunist mothers. The crowd appeared in good humor at first but turned ugly when Humphrey appeared with Holt. He surged forward, some in the crowd yelling "Warmonger!" Others shouted "We want peace!"

Police and security officers quickly moved in, and none reached Humphrey before he got into his car. There were no arrests, police said.

The atmosphere at the luncheon was in sharp contrast to the demonstration. Humphrey hailed the Australians as "comrades in war and comrades in peace," Holt said he was "grateful for the firmness of purpose" shown by President Johnson in Viet Nam.

Humphrey appeared unruffled by the demonstration, telling laughing listeners the thought that passed through his mind during the hubbub was: "what the prime minister will do to make me feel at home."

Without referring to the demonstration Holt said "I believe you will find support in this country as strong as anywhere in the world" for U.S. policy on Southeast Asia and Viet Nam.

The vice president said he feels "restrained optimism" as a result of his tour so far. He has three nations to visit before returning to Washington. In addition to New Zealand he will stop in the Philippines and South Korea.

Sub-Zero Colds Hit 13 States

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A mass of Arctic air covered much of the North on Saturday, forcing temperatures down as far as 44 below zero.

The mercury shrank below the zero level in 13 states between the Rockies and the Atlantic coast.

Three adults and a 3-year-old boy froze to death after a pickup truck became stuck in the snow in 20-below-zero cold near La Plant, S.D. Bud Jeffries, about 40, who was with the stranded party, walked to a ranch about half a mile away. He was taken to a hospital later for treatment of frozen feet.

Early in the day temperatures fell to -44 in Roseau, Minn., -43 in International Falls, Minn., -36 in Hurley, Wis., -34 in Bemidji, N.D., -15 in Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., and -5 in Burlington, Vt.

Light snow was scattered across the frigid zone. But the fall ended after reaching a depth of 10 inches in Milwaukee and 8 in Sheboygan, Wis.

A chartered bus went off a snow-slicked road near Joliet, Ill., killing three women passengers.

Snow fell in the mountains of Northern California and southwestern Oregon. Occasional rain dampened sections of Northern California, Washington and Oregon.

PREDICT DOCTORS WILL COOPERATE WITH MEDICARE

WASHINGTON (AP)—A prediction that practically all the nation's doctors will cooperate in the Medicare program was made Saturday night by Undersecretary of Welfare Wilbur J. Cohen.

"We look forward to 99 and 44-100ths of the physicians of the country cooperating in the administration of this program," Cohen said in a speech prepared for the Jacobi Medical Society.

Earlier Cohen had predicted that more than 90 per cent of the doctors would participate.

Holt said the matter of more Australian troops for the Viet Nam war is "actively under consideration," but that no conclusions have been reached yet.

"We have been considering for some time whether more Australia can do in Viet Nam," Holt said. "We hope to announce soon what Australia can do to supplement our present forces in South Viet Nam."

Labor Plans War If Demands Not Met By Johnson

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—AFL-CIO officials said Saturday their political guerrilla assaults on the Johnson administration will escalate into "a major war" unless Johnson backs labor's minimum wage demands in Congress.

Sources close to AFL-CIO President George Meany said "there is going to be a major war" if Johnson goes along with the proposal of his Council of Economic Advisers to increase the present $1.25 minimum wage to no more than $1.40 this year and $1.60 in 1970.

The 13-million-member labor federation, which has long demanded a $2 minimum wage, will settle for no less than $1.40 now, $1.60 next year and $1.75 in 1968, they said.

"Predict Battle"

And even if Johnson does support labor, political strategists of the AFL-CIO predict a bruising fight in Congress over minimum wage and unemployment compensation bills that will make the recent union shop battle pale by comparison.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen successfully blocked the union shop bill. "Now smells blood," said a top federation political expert, and may trigger wage and jobs pay legislation also.

Whether Johnson fights and wins for labor on those two bills this year may determine whether he organized labor's chief Democratic supporter in the 1964 elections—takes a political walk in the 1968 presidential campaign, the sources said.

Union leaders at their midwinter meetings here already are threatening to cut back money contributions to some Democrats in this year's congressional elections. This could cost Johnson substantial losses in the big edge the Democrats now hold in Congress.

Split Seen

AFL-CIO officials said there is a major split in the Johnson administration over the amount of the proposed minimum wage increase and that "we don't know which side Johnson is going to come down on."

The labor spokesman said White House economists want to apply to the minimum wage guidelines that say wage hikes above 3.2 per cent a year are inflationary.

"We are not dealing with arithmetic, we're dealing with people," the AFL-CIO official said.

Leaders of the labor federation tion count Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz on their side in the administration in fighting over the minimum wage.

Wirtz, sharply criticized by labor leaders on numerous other issues, goes along with the AFL-CIO argument that the present $1.25 minimum is less than the President's stated poverty line income of $3,000 a year, the AFL-CIO officials said.

The $1.25 figure adds up to only $2,600 for a full year's work.

The labor officials said Johnson's economic advisers are counseling him that there have to be some substantial wages for workers of little skill.

"They've got to give it to them," one AFL-CIO source said. "And for this to come from a liberal administration surprises us."

AFL-CIO sources indicated that the dispute over a few cents in the minimum wage could cost Johnson and other Democrats millions of labor votes in 1966 and 1968.

California Worst Hit By Flu Bug

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

From Alaska to Florida the flu bug has sent its victims struggling off to bed with fever, headache and sore throat, and Californians are the most seriously afflicted.

In Los Angeles, where the virus is the A type—Asian flu, 400,000 students and 3,000 teachers missed school Friday, absenteeism reached 40 per cent in some schools and industries, and county health officials said the epidemic won't reach its peak until midweek.

Estimate Huge Toll

Twenty-four of the state's 58 counties have been affected, and Dr. Philip K. Condit, chief of the Bureau of Communicable Diseases of the State Health Department, estimated that four million Californians will be stricken.

Many schools in the Los Angeles, San Francisco, Oakland, Sacramento and Fresno areas will be closed Monday in hopes that the day off and the holiday Tuesday for Washington's birthday will slow the epidemic's spread.

In Anchorage, Alaska, an influenza-type illness has caused high absenteeism in two schools, and the epidemiology section of the Arctic Health Research Center is working to isolate the virus.

25 Percent Aired

In Florida, Georgia, Maine, Rhode Island and Massachusetts other persons are suffering from a B type virus, less infectious than Asian flu, but just as discomforting to the person in bed.

In Providence, R.I., more than 25 per cent of the students in upper grades are sick, and Worcester, Mass., schools and industries reported a 15 per cent rate of absenteeism.

Defense Prepared In Mossler Case

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—In the 16th day of sensational testimony running the gamut of love, hatred and violence, the State of Florida plans to rest its murder prosecution Monday against blonde Candace Mossler and her husky nephew, Melvin Lane Powers.

The defense, with 25 witnesses under subpoena, then will attack the state's contentions that the couple was involved in an incestuous love affair and plotted murder of her multimillionaire husband, Jacques, 69.

Admittedly, the state relied solely upon circumstantial evidence, most of it in testimony against Powers.

Power's Motive

Numerous witnesses testified that Powers boasted of a wild and unnatural sex affair with his aunt, nursed a venomous hatred of her husband, and frequently expressed a desire to see him dead.

But in the tempestuous three weeks of state testimony, it was Mrs. Mossler who held the spotlight.

Three times, she suffered attacks of headache and nausea that disrupted the trial. She drew admissions from the court by calling two witnesses liars, wept frequently, and once tried to lie down in court by making a bed out of two chairs.

One witness testified that Mrs. Mossler offered him $25,000 to kill her husband. Another said Mrs. Mossler was present and nodded agreement when he was offered $10,000 by Powers to do the killing.

Other witnesses said she tried to influence witnesses who were to testify against Powers and put up $46,000 worth of her jewelry to guarantee a $200,000 fee to the noted criminal trial lawyer, Percy Foreman, to defend her nephew.

Be Thankful For Freedom, Teacher Urges

Dr. Raul Mandigutia, who is now teaching Spanish at Jacksonville High School, told the Jacksonville Kiwanis Club Thursday that Americans should be grateful for their freedoms. A judge for 25 years in his Cuban hometown, he described his imprisonment and flight from Cuba three years ago.

Walter Hamilton announced plans for Kiwanis ladies' night on March 7 at the Jacksonville Country club. Richard M. Cody reported that the membership subscriptions for the travelogue series had far exceeded preliminary estimates. Two programs remain, one depicting the Canadian Rockies on March 9, and another, on Spain April 13.

The club's two new members for 1966 are Donald Lakin and Richard Armstrong. Guests were Bill Cheesman, Robert Reschar and Richard Rose.

The Aztecs smoked cigarettes, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

HAS TIME RE-WITTEN YOUR WILL?

Has it been a long time since you reviewed your will? If so, time may have re-written it for you. Your children grow up and marry . . . maybe there are grandchildren for whom you have made no provision. Time changes your financial status, earning capacity, and your projections and planning for the future. Taxes and laws change with the passing of time, and these can be costly changes if your will isn't drafted to take them into account. This is a good time to see your attorney and make sure your will still expresses your wishes. Our experienced trust officers can also be of help in advising you on the financial aspects of your planning. Come in or call for an appointment. It is most helpful if we can meet with both you and your attorney. There is never any obligation, of course.

Glick Seeks Treasurer's Post In Cass

BEARDSTOWN — The 44-year-old chairman of the Cass County Board of Supervisors, now in his 17th year as a supervisor, has announced he will seek the Democratic nomination as a candidate for treasurer in Cass County.

Arthur Glick of Panther Creek, who has been supervisor chairman for 11 years, says he wants to succeed Todd Schuetter, who cannot succeed himself.

A veteran of the second world war, Glick served in the European theater with the 104th Army Division. He was the youngest man ever to be elected to the Cass County board when he was chosen in 1949 to succeed George Cline.

Primary June 14
The primary election will be June 14 and the first day for filing petitions is March 21, with March 28 the final day. Neither the county sheriff nor the county treasurer can succeed himself, and there are also two avowed candidates for the Democratic nomination as sheriff—John Walters, chief deputy, of Virginia, and Carl Wubker, chief of police, of Beardstown.

DEAN OF WOMEN AT IC SPEAKS TO SOROPTIMIST

"Youth Today—Asset or Liability" was the topic presented by Mrs. Edward Hopper when the Soroptimist Club held a dinner meeting at Hamilton's Feb. 14th.

Mrs. Hopper's experience as Dean of Women at Illinois College provided many facets for developing three main points: (a) Youth, pushed, prove liabilities, (b) The challenge is getting youth to face facts, (c) Youth need regulations in order to settle on a wise choice.

Mrs. Ruth Howard, president, presided at the meeting. Miss Mildred Cruse was a guest. Mrs. Alta Henry represented the club at the Mother's March of Dimes. A letter announcing the style show sponsored by Mu Eta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi was read as were thank-you notes from members for courtesies during illness.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market, beset by a number of worries, took its worst loss this week since last July.

Blue chips lagged even while a number of specially situated issues made good gains.

Wall Street was worrying about a possible rise in margins from the present 70 per cent. This would raise the down payment for purchase of stocks on credit and be in line with the administration's anti-inflation policy.

Chicago Livestock Market Report

CHICAGO (AP)—Demand for butcher hogs was somewhat lighter last week for a supply of 21,500 head, unchanged from the previous week.

The top of $29.50, paid on Monday, compared with a high of $30.25 in the previous week. On Wednesday, the best price was $28.75 and on Friday it was down to $28.60.

The market was 25 to 75 cents lower with some sales off $1. The average price was estimated at $27.80, lowest since December, compared with $28.38 the previous week and $17.01 a year ago.

Slaughter steers were steady to 50 cents higher, largely because of sharply curtailed receipts.

Average price for the week was estimated at $27.25, highest since last August. It compared with $26.96 for last week and $23.46 a year ago.

In the first price decline since last October, wooled slaughter lambs sold 50 to 75 cents lower.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 4.0 to 363.9 for its worst decline since the week ended last July 24. That was a week when the deteriorating situation in Viet Nam was of concern.

Of the 1,558 issues traded this week, 1,065 rose and 493 fell. The market was 10.5 per cent higher than a year ago.

General Motors, regarded as a market indicator, rose 3 1/4 to 44.01, 670 shares compared with 46,270, 350 the week before.

Boeing, battered by selling early in the week, came back very strongly and closed the week with a net gain of 2 1/4.

Collins Radio jumped 8 1/2 to 11.50, 100 shares. The stock was 100 per cent higher than a year ago.

Chrysler rose 1 1/2 to 24.00, 100 shares. The stock was 100 per cent higher than a year ago.

Eastern Air Lines 5 1/4 to 24.00, 100 shares. The stock was 100 per cent higher than a year ago.

American Telephone 1 1/4 to 24.00, 100 shares. The stock was 100 per cent higher than a year ago.

Burroughs rose 2 1/4 to 24.00, 100 shares. The stock was 100 per cent higher than a year ago.

Grumman 2 1/4 to 24.00, 100 shares. The stock was 100 per cent higher than a year ago.

Texas Gulf Sulphur 4 1/4 to 24.00, 100 shares. The stock was 100 per cent higher than a year ago.

Control Data 3 1/4 to 24.00, 100 shares. The stock was 100 per cent higher than a year ago.

Why, you're George Hamilton!

Police looked forward to the capers of Fat Tuesday — the English translation of Mardi Gras — with unease.

About a million persons were on hand in midtown New Orleans for Mardi Gras last year — packed into the relatively small area of the parades and the Quarter. Sometimes scattered violence erupted.

Heavy iron barricades now form a fence along the narrow French Quarter parade routes in sections where overflowing spectators made progress difficult last year.

Police towers, raised wooden platforms, have been placed at strategic points so radio-equipped officers can oversee the crowd.

A police effort to prohibit bottles, glasses or beer cans — with all beverages to be carried in paper cups — was sidetracked by the City Council.

The tornado of Mardi Gras by all past performances, will leave almost as much debris in midtown New Orleans as Hurricane Betsy caused when it hit the city last September.

Four grand processions by Carnival krewes sail through the crowds Sunday, with krewes throwing beads, toys and metal "doubloons" into the forest of outstretched hands.

It's considered lucky to catch a Carnival geegaw. There have been brisk fistfights over the possession of a worthless but coveted doubloon which falls to the sidewalk.

Carnival and its one-day climax, Mardi Gras, is the city's annual binge before Ash Wednesday and the 40 days of Lent. It is a tradition that goes back to the early days of the city, when it was ruled by France.

WORLD NEWS

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski, the Roman Catholic primate of Poland, was assassinated Saturday as a prewar admirer of German nazism and Italian fascism, and a foe of socialism and communism.

Poland's deputy education minister, Kazimierz Rusinek, writing in the government newspaper, Zycie Warszawy, said "Wyszynski was charmed by Italian fascism and he praised Hitler's fight against communism. His life's target was to combat socialism and destroy communism."

The cardinal has been under fire since Polish bishops invited East and West German bishops to attend celebrations marking the church's millennium in Poland next May. The invitations made reference to a spirit of "mutual forgiveness" and this was attacked by the government as damaging to national interests.

ABERDEEN, Scotland (AP)—Mary Garden, an opera star who retired in 1934, is having a birthday Sunday in a Scottish hospital. International reference works list her age as 89 but the hospital at Aberdeen said she will be 92.

Miss Garden, an Aberdeen native who went to the United States with her parents when she was 6 years old, has been in the hospital for the past three years. Hospital officials described her health as good.

Miss Garden made her U.S. debut in New York in 1907 and sang with the Chicago Grand Opera Company 1910-31. She lived with her family in Chicago, Mass., Hartford, Conn., and Chicago before going to Europe in 1896 to study voice in Paris.

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union sent the 109th satellite of its Cosmos series into orbit Saturday and it is functioning normally. Tass reported.

The Moscow announcement said the unmanned sputnik carries scientific equipment that is making space studies in accordance with a program started March 11, 1962.

The Cosmos satellites are launched periodically but come with more frequency when Soviet scientists are working on a major space effort.

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson summoned the South African ambassador to Britain to No. 10 Downing St. Saturday and there were reports the two discussed the flow of oil to Rhodesia. Ambassador Carel De Wet stayed with Wilson for 30 minutes.

South Africa, a neighbor of white-ruled Rhodesia, has adopted a hands-off attitude toward the oil embargo directed by Britain in an attempt to crush the Rhodesian government of Prime Minister Ian Smith.

Resigns

But Mayhew cited a much broader issue in an interview announcing his resignation. He said a world role would mean buying both the F111 and a new carrier, and he wasn't sure Britain could afford it.

"I am in favor of drastic defense cuts," he said. "But there must also be drastic cuts in commitments to match."

"My main point during the defense review has been that we cannot maintain a world role in the 1970s, including a presence east of Suez, on two billion pounds — not without excessive strain on the forces, or excessive dependence on the United States, or both."

He contended that Britain and the United States disagree on many aspects of Asian policy — especially on containing Communist China — and this political disagreement blocks effective military cooperation in Asia.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson accepted Mayhew's resignation in a warm exchange of letters on first-name terms. Wilson himself resigned from a Labor government in 1951, quitting as president of the Board of Trade with a protest — a strikingly similar to Mayhew's — that Britain could not afford to fight the Korean war.

He is survived by his widow, two sons, Curtis of Scottsdale, Ariz. and John of Grandview, Mo. and a sister, Mrs. Russell Bradney of Jacksonville.

Mossler Case

Witnesses tracked Powers from his trailer sales business at Houston to a Miami bar, placing him within four miles of the scene where Mossler was knocked out with a blunt instrument and his body mutilated with a knife.

According to this testimony, Powers took National Air Lines Flight 26 to Miami, reaching here at 6 p.m. the night of the slaying.

Shortly before 1 a.m., an hour before Mossler was to die, Powers downed a double scotch at the St. Louis Hotel and walked out carrying a heavy-bottomed soda bottle borrowed from a bartender. He was then at the foot of a causeway crossing Biscayne Bay to Mossler's apartment.

At 2:45 a.m., approximately one hour after the killing, Mrs. Mossler entered a Miami hospital, asking treatment for a headache. She seemed in no hurry, hospital employees said, and waited more than an hour for a doctor.

Received Calls

While Mrs. Mossler was there, witnesses testified, she received four telephone calls from a man with a voice similar to that of Powers. The purpose of the calls, the state contended, was to inform Mrs. Mossler that the plot had been carried out.

Powers flew back to Houston the next morning, other witnesses said, leaving his palm print in Mossler's apartment.

A police chemist said he found blood on Powers' jacket and trousers, but not enough to identify. The killer spread an orange blanket over Mossler's body and stabbed him 39 times through the covering.

Flu Bug

Additionally, Dr. John E. McCroan, chief epidemiologist for the Georgia Department of Public Health, said many other areas may be suffering from influenza, but until specimens have been analyzed in the laboratory, they cannot be officially listed as flu.

The U.S. Public Health Service has noted an increase in pneumonia-influenza deaths in the New England and South Atlantic sections, but cautioned that these deaths "do not parallel the evident prevalence of influenza in some parts of the country."

The health service expressed doubt that the flu epidemic would reach national proportions.

But health officials in Nevada said the flu bug apparently crept across the California border and spread to the cities of Reno and Las Vegas.

ONE HURT SATURDAY

One person was treated at Holy Cross Hospital and later released following a two-car accident at the intersection of Hardin and Morton about four o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Treated was Mrs. Sara F. Lenzen of Homewood, Ill., a passenger in a westbound car, driven by her husband, Lee R. Lenzen.

The Lenzen auto was struck by a southbound auto, driven by Grace M. Spencer of 230 East Vandallia. Police cited Mrs. Spencer with failure to yield.

Both autos were towed from the scene.

VISITS FAMILY HERE

Mrs. Sue Bailey and three children of New York City are visiting her parents, Dr. and Mrs. H. Reade Heskamp, 143 Caldwell, while her husband, Ron Bailey, one of the associate editors of Life magazine, is on an assignment in Viet Nam.

NAME SOLDIER WHO THREW SELF ON GRENADE

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American soldier who threw himself on an exploding grenade to save his comrades during a fierce fight in Viet Nam was identified Saturday as Spec. 4 Daniel Fernandez of Los Lunas, N.M.

Fernandez was a member of a small unit from Company C, 1st Battalion, 2nd Brigade of the 25th Infantry Division which was hard hit by the Viet Cong about 25 miles west of Saigon Friday.

Under intense enemy pressure, the unit fell back carrying their wounded with them but the Viet Cong followed up with rifle and grenade fire.

Fernandez was reported to have jumped on a Viet Cong grenade and covered it with his body to shield other members of his unit from the explosive blast which killed him.

"He sacrificed himself to save us," one of his buddies said.

In Los Lunas, Fernandez's father, Jose, said his son had been wounded in Viet Nam in March 1965 after volunteering to go there. Spec. Fernandez was awarded the Purple Heart and transferred to Hawaii but went back to Viet Nam in January, the father said.

Spec. Fernandez' four-year enlistment would have ended in November of this year, the father said. Fernandez said his 21-year-old son did not plan to extend his enlistment.

"I would say he evidently had a love for his fellowmen," the father said. "... You have no greater love than to give your life for your friends."

Michigan And Schellhase Erase Big Ten Point Marks

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Defending champion Michigan established a single game Big Ten basketball scoring record Saturday as it overwhelmed Purdue 128-94, but the losers also rewrote the record book.

The old conference record was a 122-point performance by Indiana against Ohio State in 1959.

Purdue's Dave Schellhase chalked up 57 points to erase the old Big Ten individual scoring record of 56 achieved twice by Indiana's Jimmy Ray.

The Wolverines, holding a 61-46 halftime lead, came roaring out of the locker room to build up a 21-point lead, 69-48, in the first three minutes of the second half.

PEORIA — The Jacksonville YMCA all-stars won the right to advance to the state 'Y' finals with a second-place finish in the district, held here Friday and Saturday.

The local outfit actually advanced to the finals with a forfeit win over Springfield, which did not show up at the tournament, where Jacksonville lost to a taller Peoria outfit, 115-83.

Peoria led all the way in the championship game, 25-18 and 36-36 at the first two breaks. By the end of the third quarter, the eventual winners led 81-57 and won going away. Walt Peoria hit 30 points and Gerald Jamovetz 26 for the winners.

Jacksonville's offense was led by Ray Stone with 26 points and Bud Vandiver with 23. Terry Chandler added 14, Pat Dowling 13 and Clyde Werries seven.

Turner Finishes Out 13-3 Season

QUINCY — Jonathan Turner, 8A finished out a successful 13-3 season Saturday with an impressive 57-39 triumph over Quincy, as Chad Ormiston hit 19 points and Steve Western added 14.

Turner led 19-9 and 29-17 at the first two breaks and won going away.

Ormiston hit eight of his nine shots from the field, and the 5-11 center finished the year hitting a blazing 66% from the field on 95 of 144 shots. Frank Lawrence was Turner's free throw champion, with a 71% rate for the season.

Of Turner's three losses this year, two were by one point in the final eight seconds, once to the Routt freshmen and once to Lincoln. The other defeat was dealt by Pittsfield. Turner whipped Routt twice and Lincoln once.

The dead-end Wolverines, who shot at a 54.2 per cent clip from the field, sank 52 field goals to set another conference record, and the two-team total of 222 points tied the Big Ten record made last Saturday when Michigan trounced Wisconsin 120-102.

The biggest lead of the game came with 5:09 remaining when Oliver Darden scored his 20th and 21st points on a hook shot, making the score 114-78.

Wisconsin Knocks Off MSU, 78-77

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Wisconsin knocked Michigan State out of second place in the Big Ten Conference Saturday by edging the Spartans 78-77.

The Badgers, now 3-6 in the conference, iced it with free throws in the remaining minute after protecting a 44-41 halftime lead.

The score was 76-75 with 14 seconds left when Ken Gustafson sank two free throws that put the Badgers out of reach. Stan Washington hit a jump shot with four seconds to go for the Spartans to narrow the gap to a single point, but the clock ran out with Wisconsin in possession of the ball.

Two reserves, Paul Morenz and Dave Roberts, provided the Badgers with the winning touch. Roberts collected 16 points. Morenz added 14.

Washington was the game's top scorer with 28 points.

The Spartans are now 6-3 in the Big Ten.

Iowa Cops First Big Ten Victory On Road, 86-80

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Denny Pauling dropped in six key points in the final 90 seconds Saturday as Iowa won a Big Ten road game for the first time this season by shading Ohio State 86-80.

The Hawkeyes, boosting their league record to 5-4 and their over-all mark to 13-6, held a 64-52 advantage with 12 minutes left.

With leading scorer George Peoples on the bench with four personal fouls, Iowa went into a stalling game and did not hit a basket for almost 7 1/2 minutes.

During that span the Buckeyes, sparked by Al Peters, forged into a 66-66 tie with 5:30 remaining.

The visitors never gave up the lead although Ohio State trailed 76-75 with 2:06 left.

That's when Pauling registered two baskets and two free throws to preserve Iowa's victory.

Ohio, now 3-6 in the conference and 9-10 for the season, bolted out to an early 12-3 lead but Iowa reeled off 12 straight points to go ahead 15-12. The Hawks led by eight three times in the first half before a late rush by the Bucks closed the gap and Iowa was ahead at intermission 45-42.

Peters and Bob Dove shared scoring honors with 23 points each. Peoples topped Iowa with 21 before fouling out with 4:30 to go.

Camaione Building Tradition At Mac

By SANDY PETERSEN

Interest in college wrestling has been on an ever-increasing rise during the past few years until it now rates as one of the best attended and most publicized collegiate sporting events.

MacMurray college, which incorporated the sport into its relatively young athletic program in 1960, has carried this trend to a point where its grappler squads now receive as much or more attention than any other sport. And rightfully so.

Under the direction of coach Dave Camaione the Highlander matmen have established not only a superior edge in the won-loss column, but a tradition which should grace the east-side campus for many years to come.

But this tradition is more than merely a reputation for bringing home victories.

A dismally responding "Yep" will come forth. "Well, how did you do?" "Oh, not too bad. At least he didn't pin me..."

Combining this ability and desire to train his men to the best of his limitless ability is only part of the story however.

To sum up his influence on the men he has coached would be an impossible task, for when someone comes away from Camaione when he is with his men, he can't help but realize that an intangible something is ever-present.

This is the MacMurray wrestling tradition and the man who has fostered its ends.

Freeman Hits 37 In 100-89 Illini Win

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Don Freeman pumped in a career high of 37 points, pacing Illinois to a 100-89 victory over Minnesota Saturday keeping the Illini's Big Ten basketball title chances alive.

The Illini recorded their sixth victory against three defeats in conference play.

The defeat knocked Minnesota, which had been tied with Illinois for third place, virtually out of contention with a 5-4 mark.

Freeman wound up with 14 field goals and nine free throws as the slick senior topped his previous varsity single game high of 35 points.

Freeman's free-wheeling play seemed to inspire the Illini, who erased a 17-10 deficit after the first 6 minutes, and with four minutes left had charged to a 23-point lead, 94-71.

All five Illini starters scored in double figures, with Jim Dawson collecting 19 points, Rich Jones 18, Ron Dunlap 15 and Bob Brown 11.

Minnesota, led by Archie Clark's 26 points, was outthudded under the Illini boards.

The Illini now remain two games behind first place Michigan with five conference games left.

This was the girls' last swim meet of the year, as they finished with a 1-3 record. The boys hold a 4-4 mark.

Practice this Monday through Thursday will be for boys only. Girls going to the district will be notified by phone. The next meet for the boys will be at Decatur Feb. 26.

Western 88, Mankato St. 78

MANKATO, Minn. (AP) — Western Illinois broke out of an 18-all tie with nine minutes gone and led the rest of the way for an 88-78 non-conference basketball victory over Mankato State Saturday night.

The Leathernecks, now 15-9 for the season, were in front 40-31 at the half and led by 14 points in the second half.

Local 'Y' Swim Team Triumphs

Arville Schaleben, associate editor of the Milwaukee Journal, will appear as banquet speaker Friday evening, March 4, inaugurating the newspaper conference.

College delegates will participate in the initial conference activities during the day Friday, with the high school delegation arriving late Friday afternoon.

Clinics and workshops will be carried on both Friday and Saturday. Social highlight of the two-day gathering will be the annual conference dance, to be held Friday evening in McClelland dining hall following the banquet.

Akers Conference Dean Milburn P. Akers, retired editor of the Chicago Sun Times and founder of the conference, will act as dean of the conference, succeeding the late Karin Walsh, of the Chicago Sun Times, who served in that capacity since the session's inception in 1953.

Schaleben, a national authority on the use of full color news print illustrations, is a past president of the Wisconsin Associated Press Association, a director of the National AP Managing Editors Association, and former chairman of APME's news research committee.

In that capacity he had the last interview with Will Rogers and Wiley Post in Alaska hours before their fatal crash in the Arctic tundra.

He covered the Sir Francis Drake estate swindle in which his federal court testimony helped send to prison the perpetrators of a grand scale fraud.

Schaleben also covered the nation's biggest mass murder, in which a Wisconsin farmer dynamited his wife and eight children.

Following his apprenticeship, he became assistant city editor and then city editor. In 1946 he was named assistant managing editor and, three years later, managing editor. His appointment to the executive editorship came in 1962.

Faculty On the faculty are Don S. Kessler, associate editor of the Quincy Herald-Whig; Robert Sands, executive director of public relations and Methodist information, The Methodist Church, Illinois Area; Scott Schmidt, women's editor of Chicago's American; Allen Seiler, editor of the Pike County Republican; Leo Soroka, St. Louis Bureau Manager of United Press International; Robert E. Strongman, chief photographer of the Decatur Herald & Review; Ralph Ulrich, chief copyreader of the Chicago Sun Times; Austin C. Wehrwein, Chicago Bureau chief, New York Times; and Robert L. Water System Needs $1.3 Million Boost For Future Growth

Jacksonville residents are thirsty and if past experience is a sound indication, the same residents will use more and more water in future years.

The Jacksonville City Council last week accepted an engineering report from Casler and Associates concerning recommended expansion of both the water supply, treatment, and distribution problems which will confront the municipality over the next 40 years.

The report summarizes the population and water use studies and estimates of cost so that the city council can evaluate the project.

Most aldermen agree that "something ought to be done," although the timing and financing has not been formally approved by the council.

$1,381,000 Project Estimated cost of the project will be $1,381,000 and will provide additional capacity and reliability at the Naples wells, the Jacksonville water treatment plant and the distribution system throughout the city. A small portion of the project has already been authorized and is now in progress.

Several weeks ago the council awarded a contract for $116,000 to rehabilitate the old filters at the treatment plant. The contract for that portion of the overall program was awarded so that work could be completed during the winter months in a period of relatively low water usage.

Pipeline Primary Source Jacksonville's pipeline to the Illinois River near Naples, according to the engineering report, should become the primary source of water supply. This will assure adequate water and eliminate dirty water problems such as was evident a week ago throughout the city. Treatment will also be easier with water of constant quality and temperature.

The Ranney Well supply at Naples, collection point for the pipeline, will be augmented with two gravel-wall wells as stand-by. Auxiliary power unit at Naples would assure a constant supply of water.

An increase by some 4 million gallons per day capacity at the treatment plant could be accomplished by replacing old and obsolete equipment.

Installation of larger water mains throughout the city's distribution system would complete loops in the present system and assure adequate fire protection in all sections of the city.

Cost Break-Down A break-down of the estimated cost for the entire project is as follows: Naples improvements, $114,500; water treatment plant, $719,500; distribution system improvements, $341,000; contingencies, $59,000; engineering, legal and administrative costs, $147,000; for a total estimated cost of $1,381,000.

Continual Problem Jacksonville had water supply problems almost continuously from its settlement until the Illinois River supply was developed in 1955. Three separate lakes were constructed, deep wells were drilled, and shallow wells were constructed at various locations in the immediate area. None of these early supplies proved adequate for the growing city.

During the severe drought of 1952-56, the two present lakes, Jacksonville and Mauvaisterre, were at record low levels while normal demands were at record highs. The old Dobbs wells, on the north edge of town, were put back into service but the total yield of the lakes and wells was not enough.

A Ranney collector was constructed in 1954 adjacent to the Illinois River. It can deliver 10 million gallons per day to Jacksonville through a 23 mile pipeline. This water can be either put into Lake Mauvaisterre or into the treatment plant.

Lake Mauvaisterre was constructed in 1921 and originally was rated at 593 million gallons storage capacity. Due to silting, the lake will now only hold 310 million gallons. At the present time, allowing consideration for evaporation, the city uses the full capacity five times per year. The very shallow average depth of the lake causes serious treatment problems because rain and wind increase the turbidity to very high values.

Lake Jacksonville is located about 3 miles south of the city and was built in 1939. The original volume of the lake was 2,300 million gallons and this has been reduced to 2,148 million by silting.

Most of the treatment facilities at the plant would have to be improved to reach the eventual 8.5 million gallon demand.

Distribution problems include several areas in both Jacksonville and South Jacksonville where adequate fire flows are not available. Several of these areas of insufficient flow include schools, business areas, manufacturing areas, and hospitals.

Another problem is the fact that there is insufficient pressure at the treatment plant to operate the present hydraulic equipment due primarily to the insufficient pipe capacity for a return.

There are no large size pipe loops to feed the small laterals. A loop or loops of large mains would allow the system to be fed from at least two directions instead of one.

Financial Data A report is being prepared at the present time on the Jacksonville sewage treatment plant. The cost of required improvements have not yet been determined, but it is possible that financing will be required which could be accomplished more economically along with the water system improvement.

Considerable detailed investigation is required in order to finance an improvement such as proposed in the report. This investigation is under way but additional time is required to complete it. For these reasons, the financial section is only preliminary and is not complete.

Generally, the outstanding debt of the entire water system is $1,975,000. The total proposed debt, including the presently outstanding bonds and the proposed improvement, is $3,356,000. This represents approximately $515 per customer for the 6,522 customers.

A general rule for determining project feasibility, according to financial experts, is that the debt per customer should not exceed $1,000, so the proposed improvements should be easily accomplished.

How To Discourage Prank Phone Calls

The telephone continues to be a source of "amusement" for a disturbing number of disturbed people and there continues to be little the telephone people can do about it in a technical way.

There are, however, a few rules that unlucky recipients of crank calls can employ, says Western Electric.

Every kind of call, whether lewd, larcenous, weird or just plain annoying, can be coped with, even if not prevented.

● If a threat is made at any time, call police.

● Know to whom you are talking.

Anyone who asks for information should be identified to your satisfaction. One device is to ask the unknown caller for his number so you can check it in the book or with information.

● Don't answer the question, "What number is this?" Instead, ask the caller what number he is dialing and whom he wants to speak to. Many people have acquired steady nuisances by giving their number to random callers.

● Instruct children and baby sitters not to give out information indiscriminately. Have them get the caller's name and say you will call back.

● If a caller remains silent after you have said "hello" twice, hang up. Otherwise, you may encourage a "breather." As long as you stay on the line you are just playing his game.

● Should a caller make an obscene remark, hang up. People who make such calls are only seeking your reaction, whatever it may be. Don't give them what they want. If such calls persist, notify the telephone company, which will do all it can to co-operate with the authorities in apprehending the offender.

● Above all, always use your telephone on YOUR terms, not the caller's.

Earlier GIs Will Help Pay Bill

The new "Cold War GI Bill," passed unanimously by both houses of Congress, involves the outlay of a healthy chunk of money—some $2.8 billion over the next six years before it tapers off.

This is about twice as much as the administration asked for in its original request. But it is one of those things that cannot be categorized as inflationary or noninflationary, that eludes analysis in columns of profit and loss.

The fact is that a substantial share of the billions the program will cost will come from the incomes of citizens in the prime of their working lives who themselves received benefits—college educations, vocational training, home loans, etc.—under previous GI bills.

There were 8.4 million who participated in the first bill after World War II. Another 2.5 million were beneficiaries of the Korean GI Bill.

How much more they have earned, how much more they have contributed to the nation than they otherwise might have, is impossible to say. The monetary returns on these investments might perhaps be estimated; in any other terms it is incalculable.

While the heavy hand the veterans' lobbies exercise over Congress is open to question in some matters, the new GI bill is one fruit of their labors everyone can applaud. Theoretically, it could be of immediate benefit to some 3.5 million veterans who were discharged from the services after Jan. 31, 1955, when the Korean bill expired.

Liberal Neighbor Backs Reagan--to Get Rid of Him

By WASHINGTON STAFF
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA) —

Though most of Ronald Reagan's neighbors on San Anfre Drive in Pacific Palisades share his conservative views, many of them were quite upset at the California Republican gubernatorial candidate last year when the cost of repaving their street was divided on an equal share basis.

The grumblers argued that the cost should be apportioned on a frontage basis, and since Reagan's frontage is practically double anyone else's—they felt he was getting off pretty light.

When a Reagan neighbor of known liberal persuasion recently revealed to a friend that he was planning to spend two days a week working for Reagan's election, he was asked why. His answer: "It's the only way we can get him off the street."

One of the disarming things about Democratic National Chairman John Bailey is that he has never tried to conceal the fact that he devotes a good part of his time to politics in his home state of Connecticut.

The visitor should not be surprised if, during a chat, he sees Bailey suddenly pick up a special green telephone standing apart from his regular office lines.

When he is finished talking, he may explain quite simply: "That's my Connecticut phone. Nobody else ever picks it up. Everybody knows it's just but not with this crowd."

Democratic Gov. John King smashed a long standing Republican tradition when he won election in New Hampshire. He is not about to forget that he needs plenty of GOP votes to gain another term this November.

Speaking recently in Boston to a wholly Democratic gathering, he began: "Fellow Republicans... And that's a lapse that doesn't hurt me at all in my state of New Hampshire..."

When Republican Senate leader Everett Dirksen announced recently that a new "grass roots" movement was under way in support of his constitutional amendment to modify one man-one vote" reapportionment, Sen. Frank Church, Idaho Democrat, was sitting with him.

Church, generally classified as a liberal, seemed just a bit discomfited in company with his conservative colleague.

Asked later how he felt about supporting a measure sponsored by Dirksen and so many other conservatives, Church defined his action by telling this story: "A school teacher asked all those in her class of youngsters to raise their hands if they wanted to go to heaven. All but two shot their hands up."

"The two kids were kept after class a moment. The teacher asked one: 'Johnny, why didn't you raise your hand with the others? Don't you want to go to heaven?'"

"Johnny replied: 'Sure I do. I up. Everybody knows it's just but not with this crowd.'"

A Lie? Ask Why

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

When my daughter was seven years old she maintained a lie she had told me for two days.

I scolded, pleaded, made speeches on the beauty of confidence between parents and children. Nothing happened. My daughter got grimmer and grimmer as I became more resentfully grim. For, of course, all the time I was thinking, "Oh God, what have I done to drive this child into commitment to a secret life and maybe a criminal one?"

On the third morning I happened to glance at my face in a bathroom mirror. It wore a look that seemed strangely familiar. I suddenly recognized it as exactly the same look of tight worriedness my mother's face had worn when I'd once maintained a childhood lie to her.

So I recovered from my anxiety. I laughed and laughed. For, of course, I was not living a clandestine and criminal life but an open and fairly decent one. And my mother's terror that she had launched me on a career of deceit made my own terror that I'd launched my child on one seem very silly and overdramatic. An hour or so later I was able to say to my daughter, "What have I done to make you so scared of me that you can't tell me you broke my beads?" And I was told what I'd done—a truth that was much, much more important than any confession of bead-breaking.

"Look in your mirror" is my counsel to a reader who writes, "It has been three days since my 8-year-old son has refused to admit a lie he told me about loosening the wheels on his sister's doll buggy. Even when I showed him the bolts I had found in his bathrobe pocket, he would not admit taking them."

I have not told his father. This is not the first lie he's told me. Look in your mirror. Your face is tight with the same look of grinnish worry my mother's face wore when she caught you in a childhood lie. Though she was sure, too, that it had committed you to a secretly criminal life, it hadn't, had it?

And neither will your child's. When children refuse us some truth, we ought to relax to the point where we can ask for the real truth we need from the child—his reason for regarding us as too mean, too scary a person to trust with the facts about broken beads and loosened doll buggy wheels.

Jacksonville is to have a second off-street parking area, on North Mauwaister street. The property was purchased Monday from Edward Goldstein for $29,547.90.

Mrs. Elizabeth Newton of near Patterson celebrated her 90th birthday anniversary last week. White Hall suffered a $26,000 fire loss in 1955, announces Fire Chief Clarence Thompson. The department answered 24 alarms, including 2 in the country, during the year.

The candidates for Carnival Queen of Bluffs high school are Judy Brockhouse, Barbara Beddingfield, Edith Collinson and Frances Gregory.

20 YEARS AGO

The local NESCO plant has converted from war production and is now ready to manufacture electric roasters as soon as steel can be secured. About 250 persons are employed there now, but E. C. Shultz, plant manager, predicts this will be doubled within a year or so.

Arthur Samore was elected president when the Jacksonville Band Boosters club organized last week. Other officers are Mrs. Fred Killam, Mrs. George L. Drennan, Mrs. W. T. Query and Arnold Burke.

50 YEARS AGO

Murrayville is to have a new farmers' elevator. It will be built in the spring at a cost of $7,000.

A large audience greeted the Illinois College Seniors in the Opera House in Waverly Saturday night when they gave their play, "Indian Summer and Sunset."

A petition on the wet and dry issue in Arenzville has been circulated and filed. Two years ago the town was voted dry by a very small majority, but the courts found for the saloon element. About 300 men and women are entitled to vote and a lively contest is anticipated.

Ho's Price—U.S. Surrender

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA) —

Though Ho Chi Minh's Jan. 24 letter to India's President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan was called a "peace feeler," later secret reports from Hanoi to several nations make clear Ho doesn't want peace. He wants our surrender.

These on-the-spot reports from the capital of North Viet Nam say that Ho's attitude is the same as it has been. The officials of several of the countries receiving letters from Hanoi have concluded that Ho's purpose was to reaffirm and justify his position.

Ho is understood to have sent letters to about 30 countries on Jan. 24. These letters varied somewhat in content.

In general, in these letters, Ho asserts that the United States is breaking the Geneva Agreement of 1954 and committing aggression against North Viet Nam.

In most (possibly all) of these letters Ho suggests that if the United States wants peace it should negotiate with the Viet Cong.

He reasserts that the United States should accept the Viet Cong's "peace" program—which would put the VC in key government ministries, give VC districts in South Viet Nam virtual autonomy (and in a safe position to continue aggression against neighboring districts), against the United States.

bring the VC into major army posts and require the withdrawal of American forces.

Secret VC documents indicate that with those concessions made to them, they're certain they could control South Viet Nam completely in a matter of months.

Ho Chi Minh's clandestine radio broadcasts in South Viet Nam say "the essential point of this (Ho letter) is to point out that the war being waged by the U.S. imperialists in Viet Nam is a criminal and aggressive war and that the true nature of the so-called search for peace campaign launched by Johnson is nothing but a swindle and witchcraft, or a search for false peace in an attempt actually to intensify the war."

Diplomats from a number of the countries contacted by Ho believe that he is attempting to marshal world public opinion against the United States.

They suggest Ho's letters are his way of countering President Johnson's recent peace offensive—which made Ho look bad in some quarters.

One European diplomat suggests that Ho may be trying to build up steam for getting the United States to again stop bombing North Viet Nam.

This is not to suggest that Ho wouldn't like talks under some very favorable circumstances—with conditions laid down that would insure a Communist takeover of South Viet Nam.

Here is a hand that broke up one of the great bridge teams of all time. North was the unlucky expert.

His opening no-trump was the sort of psychic bid that is bound to make someone unhappy. This time it was his teammates.

West just happened to have a two spade overall and no one can find any fault with South's jump to four hearts. West looked on the four heart bid as money from home which it was. He doubled and opened the king of spades. The defense did not have any real problems because there really was no way for them to go wrong. Eventually, they collected two spades, three trumps, one diamond and three clubs for an 1,100 point penalty.

The game was total point team of four and while South was fit to be tied, North explained glibly that they would probably show a profit on the board because East and West were cold for six no-trump which would count 1,440 points.

Unfortunately for our unlucky friend, it turned out that his East and West partners had arrived at six spades. South had opened the ace of hearts and continued the suit to give his partner a ruff.

It was even more unfortunate that the first South proceeded to criticize his partners for getting to the wrong slam. He might have been right in his criticism but this South remained mad. East and West became more and more angry and we really can't blame them. It is mighty tough luck to lose a slam because of a seven-zero suit break. It is particularly tough to be criticized for it. In any event, that particular team never has played together since that debacle.

FINDING THE WAY

Faith Lights

BY RALPH W. LOEW, D.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

My Chinese friend was telling me of his first trip across America. Arriving in San Francisco he had purchased an ancient automobile and begun his trek to Washington, D.C.

At ease with American customs, American language and American roads, he approached the journey with anxiety. With few incidents to disturb, the family made out well until they came close to Denver. Threading their way through the mountains, darkness overtook them. It was then that their lighting system failed.

"At first, I was panicked," said Mr. Hung. "It was dark and I felt so alone."

Then he took another look at his situation. He noted that he could see a few feet by the dim headlights. If he moved a few feet, he could see another few feet. "And so," he said with a ready smile, "We came to Denver, two feet by two feet."

His experience is constantly repeated. There are moments when one can make the long-range decisions. The direction of education, the health of a marriage, the decision concerning a profession, the determination to allow God's will to give some patience—these are the lighted highways. You see a long way.

There are the other short-range decisions. In many instances it is a matter of seeing through day by day.

In living through a family crisis it may be necessary to decide just for this week and then be ready to reassess the situation.

In many community tensions patient leaders must fight for the time to consider and the room to maneuver.

A.A. Aids Spouses of Souses

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Readers: I have received so many excellent suggestions for E.O.M.—the woman whose husband decided he could quit drinking without help—that I have decided to print two such letters. Here they are:

Dear Ann Landers: Please tell E.O.M. I am living through the same heart-breaking, nerve-racking nightmare that she is experiencing and it is murder. I got the help I needed by looking in the phone book and calling Alcoholics Anonymous—not for him (he said he wouldn't go) but for myself. I heard A.A. had a branch for the spouses of souses and what a Godsend it has been!

The organization is called Al-Anon. They have both noon and evening meetings in our city. I can truthfully say the meetings have made a different person out of me.

Children who must live with alcoholic should attend Alateen meetings (another group). I know of two fathers who went A.A. because of the help their children got from Alateen.

Go please tell E.O.M. to get in touch with A.A. and learn when and where these two groups meet. The benefits beggar description. — BEEN THERE.

Dear Ann: Please tell E.O.M. that precious few alcoholics can stop drinking without outside help, and from the description of her husband (mean, sullen, punitive) he may be off the booze, but he is still in trouble—a dry drunk. The emotional problems which drove him to excessive drinking are unresolved, witness his terrible disposition. His chances of staying dry are mighty slim.

The man needs A.A. and his wife could get a lot of good out of attending meetings of her local council on alcoholism.

My alcoholic husband is still drinking, and like E.O.M.'s husband he insists he has no problem. The council has helped me keep from cracking up. With the council's continued assistance I intend to change myself enough so that no matter what my husband does I will be able to lead a normal life. Sign me — KANSAS CITY

Dear Ann Landers: Our daughter is a sophomore in high school. Her English teacher (a woman in her late 20's) has been living with a man of poor reputation for several months.

She wears an engagement ring. It is apparent that this woman is pregnant.

Do you feel she should be allowed to continue to teach? My husband and I are horrified at the poor example this teacher is setting for her students.

Should we report her to the board of education or should we arrange to have our daughter transfer to another school? — PERPLEXED PARENTS

Dear Perplexed: Unless your daughter is attending a school where the faculty and administration is blind I cannot understand how the teacher goes unnoticed by the principal.

A pregnant (and unmarried) teacher would not be tolerated in any public or parochial school that I know of.

You can be sure that if this teacher "is" pregnant (which I doubt) she won't be around much longer.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Contrary to legend, the color red does not excite a bull, since all cattle are color-blind. In bullfighting, the matador's cape and his muleta—his staff which bears a red flag—are red since the color minimizes the sight of blood and other stains, and blends to better advantage to produce a more colorful spectacle. The inside of the cape is yellow and the bulls charge at that as readily as they do the red side.

Ag Department Says It Helps Consumers As Much As Farmers

By OVID A. MARTIN
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—This is the year in which the Agriculture Department hopes to make good progress in convincing the public that it is the "people's agency," and is not concerned solely with farmers.

The goal of department officials has been set forth by the very articulate George L. Mehren, an assistant secretary of agriculture in charge of many activities more directly related to consumers and non-farm folk than to producers.

In a recent speech, Mehren, a Californian, said he wished he could get rid of the "most fallacious clichés" of those applied to the department — namely that its single or exclusive mission is to serve farmers alone.

"The truth is that the department is first, last, and always dedicated to serving all the people — including farmers."

The assistant secretary said that about 90 per cent of "our man-hours — and over two-thirds of our expenditures — are devoted to services of primary benefit not to farmers as such, but to the general public — services to the most typical American of all, the consumer."

"We provide far more direct services to more consumers than any other department or agency of government."

Many speeches made last year by department officials, including Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, sought to emphasize the consumer aspects of their work. Undoubtedly, this effort has been prompted to some extent by criticisms of department expenditures, particularly for farm program activities.

New Name Needed?

These attempts to make the department more generally popular have led to suggestions, even by Freeman himself, that the department's name be changed.

Mehren said that among a great many other things, the department administers the biggest recreation complex in the world. He referred to the 186 million acres of national forests, with their more than 7,000 camp and picnic grounds, 100 winter sports areas, and countless fishing streams and facilities for other types of rural recreation.

The department operates and maintains the biggest fire department in the world. He referred to the famous smokejumpers employed by the department to protect the national forests. These fighters are equipped with the latest firefighting tools, including helicopters, chemical-carrying airtankers, patrol planes and bulldozers.

Timber and Banking

The department, the assistant secretary reported, sells more timber than the biggest lumber company in the world. Almost one-fourth of the wood used by American industry for homes, paper, furniture and other

LAW on the farm

GIFTS CAN SAVE TAX DOLLARS

By Charles Whalen

Giving money or property to your children can save income tax dollars now and death taxes later. If you give income-producing property, such as farm land or stocks or bonds, you shift the income to a son or other family member who is probably in a lower tax bracket. Thus the family pays less tax by dividing the income.

Lifetime gifts can also reduce estate and inheritance taxes. Both taxes are graduated — the property in the upper layer of your estate is taxed at a higher rate than that in the lower layer. Property given away during your lifetime is removed from this higher tax bracket.

Because of the liberal exemption and exclusions allowed by the gift tax, you can transfer a sizable amount of property over a period of time without paying any gift tax. But even if you do have to pay a gift tax, the rates start at the bottom of the scale. You can usually save taxes later by paying a gift tax now.

Suppose a widow owns property worth $200,000 after debts. If she leaves it all to her son, he will have to pay estate and inheritance taxes amounting to $36,500. If she gives half to her son now and pays a gift tax of about $8,500, she will reduce her estate and inheritance taxes to $7,000—a net saving of $21,000.

Expensive Property First

As a general rule, you should give property in which you have a high cost basis because this basis (cost plus improvements less depreciation) carries over to the receiver of the gift. For example, let's say that you have two pieces of property, now worth $500 each. One cost $400 and the other $100. You should give your son the property that cost you $400, because he will then have higher depreciation deductions and, if he later sells the property, his taxable gain will be smaller.

If you keep the property that cost you $100, it will have a new higher tax basis at your death. The fair market value at that time becomes the cost basis for your heirs, giving them higher depreciation deductions and lower capital gains if they sell. Thus you avoid paying an income tax on the capital gain, and your heirs will have little or no capital gain when they sell the property.

But the tax saving is only one factor in deciding whether to make substantial gifts during your lifetime. There is little sense in jeopardizing your retirement security by giving away all or most of your property before your death. Social security, Medicare, and other retirement benefits may not be sufficient to support you in your later years.

Must Be True Gift

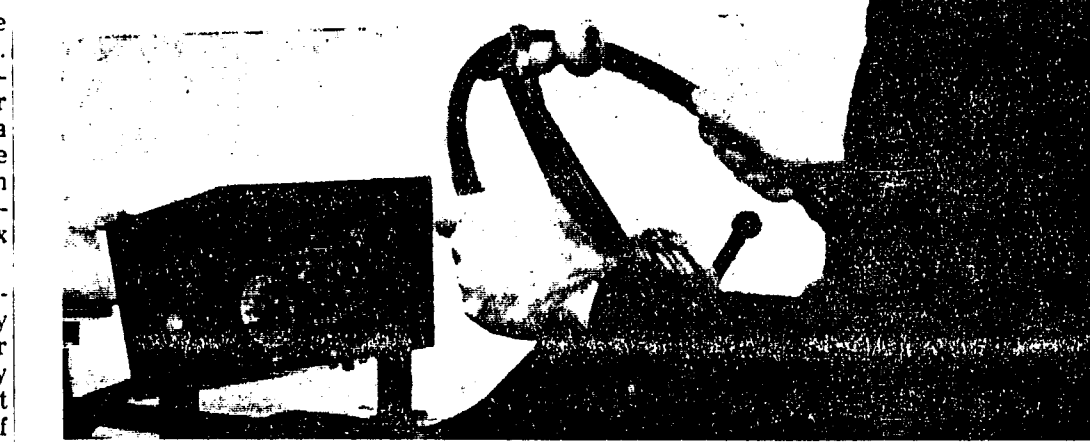

Moreover, if you should die within three years after making the gift, Uncle Sam presumes that you made the gift "in contemplation of death." It might then be included in your estate and be subject to estate taxes just as if you had still owned it at the time of death. This presumption may be rebutted by evidence that the primary reason for the gift was to

Electronics Counts Each Kernel

New this year, the Dickey-John Seed Monitor, shown above, is designed to take the guesswork out of planting. When planting corn, each kernel passes by an electronic sensing device and registers as a blink on a console mounted on the tractor in front of the driver. In addition to this, the console is equipped with a timer and row selector which work in relation to the tractor ground speed.

Thus, by selecting any row, from one to eight, and setting the timer, the operator can compute to the kernel just how many grains of corn have been planted. It gives the operator assurance at all times that his planter is performing, and it gives him an accurate count any time on the plant population rate of any single unit. Kernels planted register on an electronic counter on the console.

The device also monitors soybeans to the extent of showing whether or not all planter units are operating. It is manufactured by the Dickey-John Corp. of Chatham, Sangamon county.

Order Tree Planting Stock Now—Graham

Landowners who are interested in planting Illinois State Nursery tree stock this spring are urged to submit the tree orders as soon as possible, says Joe Graham of the local SCS unit.

Three species of state nursery stock, ash, black walnut and red oak seedlings, have been sold out. However, a good supply of other hardwood species and conifers are still available. Orders for tree stock will be accepted by the Springfield office of the Division of Forestry until April 18.

Tree planting is advocated on marginal or submarginal land unsuited for either cultivation or pasture. Practically without exception a few acres of such idle and unproductive land exists on every farm. Trees planted on these areas provide many benefits—profit to the landowner, wildlife habitat, soil conservation, beauty, recreation and shelterbelts. The increasing popularity of home-grown Christmas trees has contributed greatly to the profit aspect of tree planting.

Relative to other crops little labor, overhead, or expense is involved in tree planting. One acre can be planted with $10 to $15 worth of seedlings. Furthermore, mechanical tree planting machines capable of planting 8 to 10 acres per day are available to local landowners. A tree planter greatly facilitates the actual planting, except where hand planting is necessitated on

ASC To Provide Measurement Service Again

Measurement for compliance with the 1966 farm programs is being offered again this year by the Morgan County ASCS. R. Gloyd Leavell, member of the ASCS committee, explained this service is available at the "bargain" rate of 7c per acre, with a minimum charge of $5 per farm.

Following are some of the advantages to farmers using this service:

1. Guarantees exact program compliance.
2. Permits the maximum of every fraction of an acre of farmland.
3. Eliminates cost of return visits.
4. Avoids destruction of excess crop acreage, loss of seed, fertilizer, and labor.
5. Acreage of other fields may also be furnished (whole field acreages, etc.).
6. If measurement request is completed at program sign-up, participation may be changed to fit field acreages.

Producers utilizing this service should be prepared to furnish the following information at sign-up time:

1. Location of feed grain and wheat fields.
2. Location of fields grain devoted to diverted acreage and/or normal conserving acreage.
3. Careful estimates or measurements of waterways, lanes, or other areas not planted to crops.
4. Location of variable lines which may be adjusted for exact compliance.

steep hillsides and on irregular or small planting tracts.

Monetary assistance is available to county landowners for tree planting and other forestry activities through the county office of the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service. Current cost-share assistance for tree planting is $22 per thousand seedlings or per acre under the ASCS program.

BRIMFUL Compares Meat Price Recovery With Crops

By Jim Brim

Is the highest price always the best? Sometimes it is not. Consider the distance cattle and hogs must be transported, where they will be weighed, what time of day, etc.

These points are of particular importance in the buying and selling of feeder cattle. Think twice before you agree to cut out some at a lower price. If that needs to be done you sort before the buyer arrives.

School dropouts usually increase from now until the end of the school year. Use all the influence you may have on the potential dropout to help him stay in school. Get him to consider his potential earnings as a dropout and a high school graduate over his lifetime. It makes a big difference.

Are you ready to top dress your wheat? If you aren't, haven't considered it, talk to your fertilizer dealer. Top dressing wheat is well worth while.

Ladies, plan your spring house cleaning now. Good planning can save time and steps later. Take a good look at some of the aids on the market. Some of them might be a big help to you.

Have you done anything about replacing that water supply that failed last summer? Water is indispensable and frequently isn't appreciated until it's gone.

Have you written your Senator or Congressman lately? Now's a good time to do it. They don't know what we are thinking or what we want if we don't tell them.

Now You Should —

- ... Clean out the farm shop.
- ... Ask the neighbors over for supper.
- ... Play games.
- ... Ask mom to bake a pie.
- ... Clean seed.
- ... Go to the dentist.
- ... Buy a new pair of shoes.
- ... If you raise your own, start your garden plants.
- ... Help the kids with their homework.

Never could get excited about February. It's kind of a waiting month, "too close to winter and too far from spring." We may have some snow yet—we haven't had that real one yet this year.

A neighbor is a man who advises you what to buy so he can borrow it later.

National FFA Week is scheduled in February to honor George Washington, who was an outstanding farmer as well as a great leader.

The Smith-Hughes Act passed in 1917 provided federal funds to states, on a matching basis, for establishing programs of vocational education in public high schools. Subsequent acts have served to expand the program stances not dissimilar to those being endured by other segments of the agricultural industry," Ray said.

The National Feeder President said that if the problem of farm surpluses is relieved, it will come about as a result of U.S. world subsidy programs rather than through the activities of domestic price supports and government restrictions.

In discussing the National Livestock Feeders association, Ray emphasized that the organization is actually and completely controlled by people engaged in livestock feeding.

"Our association will not submit to undue influences, pressures or maneuvers by other business interests even though they may be closely associated in the agricultural industry."

"This is not to say that we do not respect advice or listen to arguments from other associations. This tolerance and respect of business interests unlike our own has been demonstrated many times. We have worked closely with other associations when the objectives were considered to be in the best interest of the feeding industry," Ray declared.

Missouri Corn Cobs Important

By JERRY CURRY
WASHINGTON, Mo. (AP) — Old man Henry Tibbe turned out his first corn cob pipe back in 1869 because a farmer friend was lazy.

Now the Missouri Meerschaum Co., founded by Tibbe in 1872, averages $1 million a year in pipe sales.

Corn cob smokers from the cracker barrel philosopher at the general store to the late Gen. Douglas MacArthur have maintained that a good cob pipe can't be beat.

Cobs don't have to be broken in like the standard briars or clays.

After three or four months of consistent smoking the cobs turn sour, but that doesn't matter much because the pipes cost from a dime to $3.50. Only the carriage trade is expected to spend more than 49 cents.

Carl Otto, president of Missouri Meerschaum, said the corn cob pipe business began when John Scharnke brought a bag full of cobs into Tibbe's wood working shop one day.

"Scharnke had been making his own pipes but he got lazy and asked the old man to turn a few on his lathe," Otto said.

Brisk Trade

Tibbe did and gave them to the farmer. Then Tibbe made the rest of the cobs into pipes and stuck them in his window. They sold quickly and Tibbe switched to corn cob pipe manufacturing. He incorporated the Missouri Meerschaum in 1872.

Washington, a Missouri River town of 7,961 about 50 miles west of St. Louis, quickly became the corn cob pipe capital of the world.

The company then introduced science into the provincial art. Regular corn cobs often were not woody enough so the company gave grants to the University of Missouri to develop better ones.

The university's agronomy department discovered a white corn with a large, woody close-grained cob made to order for pipes.

The company contracts with farmers across the state to raise this kind of corn.

A Penny Apiece Missouri Meerschaum goes to the fields at harvest time with special equipment which shells the cob without damaging it.

The farmer gets to keep the corn and also collects one cent each for the cobs.

Otto says that although his plant, employing 100 persons,

ILLINOIS OUTLOOK LETTER

FOREIGN BUYERS TAKE MORE CORN

Corn prices recently were 8 to 10 cents higher than seemed likely a few months ago. The March future has ranged from a low $1.18 to a high of $1.31. At this writing the latest quotation is just under $1.30.

World-wide inflationary forces have probably helped to raise the price of corn. Demand is very strong both in the United States and in other countries. Extreme drought in Australia and the southern part of Africa have also helped to increase the demand for corn and other U.S. farm products.

Exports Up 48 Percent. From October 1 to January 21, corn exports totaled about 220 million bushels, 48 percent more than the year before.

The big four foreign buyers are the United Kingdom, the Netherlands, Canada, and Japan. (Some of the corn billed to Canada is reshipped to other countries.) Other large buyers are Spain, West Germany and Belgium. In the fiscal year 1964, the United States shipped corn to more than 44 countries.

Most of the corn that is exported is sold for dollars — not shipped under special government export programs.

Industrial Use Increases Slightly. Domestic processors used around 90 million bushels of corn during the October-December quarter. This amount was about 5 percent more than a year earlier. Fifty-one million bushels were used in wet process milling (for starch, syrup, etc.), perhaps 30 million for dry milling (corn meal and similar products) and 7½ million for alcohol. The amounts used for these purposes do not change much from one year to another.

More Corn Used for Feed? About 995 million bushels of corn appear to have been used for feed in the October-December quarter. This amount is about 4 percent more than was used in the same quarter one year before, but it is not to be taken as a precise estimate. Rather, it is a residual or left-over item that is calculated by taking the estimated supply on October 1 (carryover plus new crop) and subtracting known amounts used and exported, and estimated stocks left on hand January 1. Any errors in the estimates of these figures affect the amount shown as fed to livestock (and residual).

With hog numbers down so sharply, it seems unlikely that farmers fed 4 percent more corn in the past quarter than a year before. Probably some of the large disappearance was due to heavy field losses in many areas.

Stocks Up 4½ Percent. Stocks of corn on hand in the United States on January 1 totaled 4,099 million bushels, 4 percent more than a year earlier — according to the USDA. Stocks on farms were listed at 3,142 million bushels, up 11 percent. Stocks in elevators, mills and warehouses totaled 657 million, down 9 percent from the year before. Stocks in bins and other facilities controlled by the CCC were 299 million bushels, down 28 percent.

Greene County Farm Bureau Had Good Year

CARROLLTON — A year of growth was reported Feb. 12 at the annual meeting of the Greene County Farm Bureau and its affiliates.

Kenneth Harms, secretary of organization, announced Greene county was the first in the district to reach its new member quota and membership at present stands at 1,490.

Dale Wachtel, manager of the Service Co., reported sales of $1,554,000 and patronage refunds amounting to $74,000.

Producers Supply Co. distributed $925 in patronage refunds. New directors elected to the Farm Bureau board were Joseph H. Schmidt and Thomas E. Ballard, both of Carrollton.

Directors reelected were Carl Sheffer, Froman Holtzwarth, James Esarey, Thomas Ford and Wayne Hallock.

Robert Hoff of Kane was elected to the Service Co. board for the first time. Directors reelected were A. B. Nichols, Francis Kuhnline, Carl Sheffer, Froman Holtzwarth, James Bartlett and Kenneth Davis.

The principal speaker was Gray Daley, vice president of Interstate Producers Livestock association. He told of observations gained while participating in a foreign trade mission sponsored by the Illinois Agricultural association and predicted an increased flow of Illinois farm commodities to foreign lands.

A basic requirement for membership in the Future Farmers Of America is that a boy must be a student of vocational agriculture in high school, although figures affect the amount shown as fed to livestock (and residual).

Because of conflicting claims on the value of certain foods, as well as medicines, the individual should rely on the knowledge and opinion of his own physician, the U. S. Food and Drug Administration, the American Medical Association, and the American Dietetic Association.

Preceding the paper members responded to roll call by mentioning new food items on the market. During her program Mrs. Mangan demonstrated several so-called health foods available, such as dried seaweed and sea salt.

An additional guard against further infection is to cover the open sores with sheer patch bandage. This protects them from being picked at by nervous fingers.

JACOB STRAWN

The Illinois Farmer

The Feb. 17, 1886 issue of Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper, published weekly in New York City, carried the following story and picture of Jacob Strawn, who died southwest of Jacksonville Aug. 25, 1865.

The entire page of the newspaper is poorly printed and hard to read. The article is a good one, though, with the facts well presented. There is one obvious error, however. Strawn never served in the Illinois legislature — didn't run, and wouldn't have served if elected. He summed up his ideas on politics in one of his adages: "Study your interests closely and don't spend any time electing Presidents, Senators and other small offices, or talk of hard times, while spending your time in town whittling on store boxes, etc."

Jacob Strawn, of Jacksonville, Illinois, died lately, at his home in that place. Starting in farming and cattle buying at an early age, with capital of 50 cents in silver, Mr. Strawn came to be the king farmer of the West.

THE LATE JACOB STRAWN

His acres spread over almost whole counties, and it was no unreal thing for him to sow a field of wheat or plant corn over a space twice the size of a German kingdom. He had sheep and kine upon a thousand hills — or would have had, if the hills had been there. He built pretty much the whole of the Village of Jacksonville; he represented his district in the Legislature, where he was noted for direct and available good sense. His little "garden patch," at the time of his death, embraced nearly 35,000 acres, worth at least $1,500,000, without improvements.

He was twice married, and leaves seven sons and one daughter. In person he was Daniel Lambert, weighing about 350 pounds. During the war he was an active and liberal friend and supporter of the Union cause.

Many interesting incidents have been related respecting him. Among which are the following: He began life for himself by raising 16 acres of wheat, which he traded for 16 steers, which he sold at a profit. After this he dealt mainly in cattle. He was a rapid talker, and a keen judge of human nature, a prompt actor, knew how to drive a bargain, and always made money. He seldom came to town, was busy every moment, and was always in the field or in the saddle, going from place to place.

Until within a few years he was his own accountant and his own banker; and, strange as it may seem, kept no books, trusting entirely to his memory, which never failed him. In physical labor he excelled in every department. With a common hand sickle he has been known to reap, bind and shock 60 dozen bundles of wheat in a day. Farmers will understand this to be what not more than one man in a thousand could perform.

Beat Off Thieves
In earlier days he carried large sums of money upon his person, and on several occasions his life was attempted as he rode alone in the country. At one time, near Alton, he was attacked by three robbers, whom he thrashed and put to flight with his cattle whip.

He was a man of wonderful muscle and activity. He could spring over the highest fence and place one hand on the top rail, and on one occasion he caught an infuriated bull by the horns, who was charging on him in an open field, and, throwing him down by mere force, completely subdued the animal.

DOMESTIC

February, 1886
During his last visit to New York General Grant has been presented by several of our leading wealthy citizens with a purse of one hundred thousand dollars.

The winter in the West has been even more severe than heretofore reported. Communication has been cut off by the great depth of snow. It is said that two hundred Mormons on the way to Montana Territory are known to have perished.

In the Senate, last week, Mr. Wade introduced a resolution to amend the Constitution so that no President shall be eligible for a second term of office, and made a speech insinuating that President Johnson was too ambitious of power.

Mr. David Williams, of Benton, Ill., was recently indicted for murder. A skeleton was found near his father's house, supposed to be the remains of a man named Henry Mahorn, who had been lost sight of some time previous, and the circumstances pointed conclusively to Mr. Williams as guilty of his murder. But on Jan. 15, while the trial was going on, Mr. Mahorn turns up again, and came into court, to the surprise of all present, and the infinite relief of the accused, who was, of course, acquitted at once, and the judge and the jury left to ruminate upon the uncertainty of circumstantial evidence.

Donald McKay, the distinguished ship-builder of East Boston, has lately returned from Europe, where he thoroughly inspected the iron-clad navies of France and England. He states that our Navy Department has constructed, built and equipped, since 1851, an iron-clad fleet more powerful than all the iron-clad navies of the world combined, and declares that the Dunderberg, built by Mr. Webb, in New York City, to be equal to all the French iron-clads, of which we have heard so much in praise.

In Georgia, the Governor has vetoed the bill making valid all contracts between whites and freedmen. The Senate passed the bill allowed freedmen to testify in their own behalf in criminal cases only.

Joseph Crele died at Caladonia, Wisconsin, on the 27th of January, at the age of 140 years. He was born near Detroit, Michigan, in 1725, seven years before George Washington was born. Crele's baptism is said to be on record in the French Catholic Church in Detroit, so that his age would seem to be duly authenticated.

There is a "sell" going the rounds, which has victimized, among others, two or three distinguished teachers in the public schools. The gist of it is that there is an old man now living in Biddeford, Me., who will be 142 years old if he lives to the 30th of this month. Get it?

HUMORS

February, 1886
THE LARGEST ROOM IN THE WORLD — The "room for improvement!"

"Jane, has that surly fellow cleared off the snow from the pavement?" "Yes, Sir." "Did he clear it off with alacrity, Jane?" "No, Sir; with a shovel."

What comes after cheese? Mouse.

Stupid people may eat, but shouldn't speak. Their mouths would do well as banks of deposit, but not notes of issue.

Why are young ladies like arrows? Because they never go off without a bow (beau), and they are always in a quiver till they get one.

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE — A smart young lawyer hearing it stated by a lecturer that "man is merely a machine," remarked, "Then I suppose an attorney may be said to be a Suing Machine."

YESTERYEAR

News, Views Old Newspaper Century Ago

From the Jacksonville Journal: TONIGHT Prof. Turner and others will hold a meeting on the Industrial University at Meredosia; Friday, the 23d inst., at Bethel; on the 28th inst., at Prentice; on March 1st at Lynnville and at Concord on March 5th.

MIGRATION — The scarcity of houses in our city not only prevents migration to this place, but is beginning to stimulate migration from the city. Is it not most stupid blindness that prevents our capitalists from at once building tenement houses. By doing so they would almost double the present value of their property in a few years, and give our city a new growth.

SAME OLD BUSINESS — In relation to the heavy fines assessed lately against those convicted of illegal sale of whisky, some people are asking if said fines have been paid into the treasury. We are happy to be able to answer that these fines have all been collected. OR SOON WILL BE, for the parties fined are making money at the SAME OLD BUSINESS, and if they have not already paid, will soon be able to do so.

THE DEMAND for money is growing more active. Farmers are selling comparatively nothing. Shippers are not in the market to any great extent, and owners of live stock are compelled to borrow largely to hold. The producing classes now seem to sigh for the times of war instead of the times of peace.

From the Jacksonville Sentinel: Fred. Douglass lectures this evening at Strawn's Hall, on "The Assassination and Its Lessons." The proceeds will be devoted to the library of the Sigma Pi society.

Frederick Douglass was the first Negro to be entertained at the White House. His host was Abraham Lincoln. He was a gifted orator.

The hall was jammed with people that night to hear him. But he didn't show up; nobody seemed to know just why, as he had lectured in Peoria the night before and had intended to take the Illinois River railroad to Virginia and from Virginia to Jacksonville on the regular stage. This should have gotten him in Jacksonville by 3 p.m.

One group said that the Sangamon river was so high that the railroad feared for its bridge and had stopped all trains to Virginia. Anyway the Sigs had to give all the ticket money back to the disappointed customers.

It was later learned that the Society's lecture course manager had applied at the Dunlap House for a suite of rooms for Douglass and party, and that he so aroused the ire of Kelsey, the hotel manager, that Kelsey threw him out the front door. Kelsey said he had no doubt but what Douglass was a good enough man to visit the White House, but that he wasn't good enough for the Dunlap House.

Upon rescheduling his lecture tour Douglass spoke here April 7 and while he was in town he was the house guest of M. P. Ayers, the banker and avid Republican.

Both newspapers said there was only a half-house present to hear Douglass speak April 7. The JOURNAL said it was a very fine lecture; the SENTINEL said it was "odiferous enough to stink up the entire town."

But then the two weeklies seldom agreed on anything.

These Comic Books For Scholars Only

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF WASHINGTON (AP) — Batman, Superman and other heroes of the golden age of comic books are being kept behind locked doors in the Library of Congress.

But, as Batman's sidekick Robin would put it, Holy Thesis! They're off limits to the kids and are for scholarly research only in the quiet library where the "quiet" signs mean no laughing as well as no talking.

Unless you're a sociologist, a reporter or a graduate student writing a dissertation, you can't get near the library's 12,000 or so comic books.

The comics, dating from the late 1930s to the present, are kept in gray boxes on dusty shelves in two locked corridors of the library's stacks. The collection includes about 2,500 titles and may be the world's largest.

"We don't know of any other library that collects them," says John H. Thaxter, assistant chief of the library's serial division.

They are still coming in — 136 different titles at present — under copyright laws that require that the library receive two copies of every copyright periodical published.

Unlike magazines, there are no bound volumes available, so the library has to take special care of the yellowing, cracking old comics. In addition their value is growing — a copy of the first comic in which Superman appeared sold last year for $100.

"We're giving serious thought to microfilming some of the earlier editions," Thaxter said. The oldest comic book listed in the library's files is a January 1938 edition of Detective Comics. Although earlier comic books had reprinted newspaper funnies, Detective Comics became the first one with original material when it was first issued in 1937.

A year later, Action Comics came along and gave birth to Superman, followed by Batman who started in Detective Comics but got his own book in 1940.

There seems little difference between the Batman of 25 years ago and the masked figure who darts twice weekly across television screens.

More Cash Jingling In Americans' Jeans

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
WASHINGTON (AP)—Americans have more cold cash jingling in their pockets and stuffed in their billfolds than they did five years ago. The business boom is only part of the answer for the proportionate increase. The Federal Reserve Bank at Richmond, Va., part of the new pattern, the bank agency which distributes coins reported, are the increased demand for coins and an upturn in the business cycle. The remaining possible causes, the bank added, are less than most factors lack accurate measurement. The demand for pocket money by the increasing number of teen-agers who hold jobs or receive allowances. The number of teen-agers between 15 and 19 increased by 3.5 million between 1960 and 1965—some 28 percent above the increase for the previous five years. Increased travel, both domestic and foreign, which prompts Americans to carry more ready cash than normal. The Chicago Federal Reserve Bank reported that although travelers' checks are widely used by travelers, most still find it convenient to carry more currency than they normally would at home. Possible hoarding of American currency abroad to offset sometimes shaky currencies in emerging countries. Internal Revenue Service policies, including a crackdown on federal gambling tax collections and use of computers to check income tax returns. "Persons who were evading the gambling and income taxes may have been sufficiently impressed by these two policies to switch to a currency basis for conducting their business rather than depositing their funds in banks," the bank said. Strong and steady increases, especially since 1961, in personal income, savings and public holdings of liquid assets. The rising use of credit cards and higher interest rates are factors in the opposite direction, the bank said, but pressures toward bigger holdings of hard cash were much stronger. One Treasury spokesman summed up the whole situation in one word — affluence.

JHS Press Breaks Contest Wide Open Routt 83-46

By BUFORD GREEN

Jacksonville's full-court press ripped Lanphier apart while Ron Coleman and Duane Hess combined for 51 points, Friday night, as the Crimsons avenged an earlier defeat with an easy 75-54 Capital Conference victory over the Lions at the JHS Bowl.

The Crimsons' full-court press forced the Lions into 33 ball losses, 17 in the third quarter alone when Jacksonville broke the game wide open.

Coleman threw in 27 points and Hess added 24 in his best at 2-1.

Increase Lead Coleman added a 20-footer and a short layup off a drive underneath to open the second period for a 22-10 difference. Bob Ramsey carried Lanphier through the second quarter to keep the Lions in the game.

After Lanphier closed the gap to 28-17, Abe Brown hit a 15-footer, Coleman canned one from the corner and Hess added a 20-footer for a 32-20 margin.

Rich Coble connected from 20 feet out on the side at the half-time buzzer for a 34-24 intermission count.

The third quarter saw the Crimsons bust the game wide open. The JHS press forced Lanphier into 17 turnovers in the eight-minute spread, and a 44-18 halftime advantage.

The Crimsons cashed in for a 26-point frame to soar out of sight.

Press Breaks Fame Open Three times in the quarter Lanphier failed to get the ball across the mid-court stripe and each time the Crimsons busted loose for eight straight points.

Hess, Bob Donovan and Coleman all held hot hands in the frame. JHS took 27 shots in the quarter and entered the final eight minutes with a safe 60-40 margin, after leading by 24 points once in the stanza.

Lanphier threw a mild scare into the Crimsons early in the fourth period, tearing off nine straight points to close the gap to 63-52 with 5:21 left in the game. Coleman came back in the game and quickly hit a corner jumper and stole the ball for two points by Brown. Hess added two straight from 15 feet out on the side and JHS upped the margin to a 71-52 spread with 2:40 left to play.

OBSERVATION
LOS ANGELES — (NEA) — Red Sanders, the former UCLA coach, always came up with the quick line. Once when the Bruins had scored on Stanford, he looked at the Stanford stands and said:

"They were so quiet it was as if a world convention of undertakers had just been informed that somebody had really discovered the secret of eternal life."

'Birds Bury In PMSC

VIRGINIA — The Virginia Redbirds assured themselves of at least a second place tie in the PMSC conference here Friday night, as they amassed a 21-6 domination of the first frame to coast home with an impressive 83-46 conquest over the Routt Rockets.

Leading from the opening minute, Virginia placed 13 men in the scoring column, topped by double figure performances by all five starters.

A tight man-to-man press stymied the Rockets throughout the night, while the taller Virginia unit also gained an advantage in the rebound department by a 61-23 count. Redbird center Steve Larsen recorded 17 of the locals' grabs to lead the rout.

Virginia utilized the press extensively in the first frame, as they gained repeated possession to take a 21-6 advantage after the initial eight minutes.

Successfully maintaining the press, Virginia added 11 more tallies to their margin to take the 44-18 halftime advantage.

Steve Graves rated as high loose for the night with 14, while Bill Middleton and Greg Reiterman netted 12 each.

Dick Zeller, with 10, was the only Rocket performer to finish in double figures.

HANDS UP: This was a common sight to Lanphier Friday night, all arms in front of them as Jacksonville's full-court press forced the Lions into 33 turnovers. Here Ron Coleman (34) and Bob Donovan hurry Lanphier's John Johnson (50). JHS won the game 75-54.

Lewis Trips Clan In 2nd Half 103-89

LOCKPORT — A hot-shooting MacMurray outfit led for most of the initial 35 minutes, here Friday night, but folded in the closing moments as the host Lewis Flyers surged from behind to take a 103-89 triumph going away.

The loss snapped the Highlanders' winning streak at five games.

Hitting at an impressive 48.7 percent for the night, the Clansmen were only edged by a 40-39 count in the field goals department, but suffered a 23-11 shelling at the charity stripe.

Lewis gained 36 opportunities for the 15 foot line, while the Highlanders were awarded only 12 tries.

Mac center Steve Proesel got the Clansmen off to a good start in the contest, as he tallied three quick buckets to put the visitors up by 7-0.

Never relinquishing the lead throughout the first half, the Clan moved their spread to 38-15 with 8:32 to go in the session.

Sparked by the outside shooting of guards Tom Murphy and Perry Williams, Lewis continued to chip away at the bugle late in the stanza to trail by only 48-44 at the half.

MacMurray held their advantage during the opening action of the second round, but fell to a 66-66 status at Murphy and Williams continued to hit for the locals.

The Highlanders' now notorious 6th man, sophomore Tom Cochran, came off the bench to score 12 for the Clan, but the effort was not enough as Lewis finally took the lead for good at 8-81 with 4:43 remaining.

Murphy and Williams led all scorers for the night with 28 and 23, respectively, while Jim Pauls and Dave Blackburn added 19 and 18 more to the victory tally.

Proesel, who netted 14 during the first stanza, topped the Highlanders with 21.

The win boosts Lewis to a 17-6 record, while the Clansmen are now 11-12.

State To Withdraw Secondary Highway Aid In 38 Counties

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Illinois will withdraw support for the federal-aid secondary highway program in 38 counties because of dwindling funds, State Highway Division officials disclosed Friday.

In the other 64 counties, state matching funds for such construction will be reduced.

An announcement by the Illinois Public Works Department said the new formula for matching federal-aid secondary allocations will apply to unobligated 1967 and 1968 fiscal year funds.

It also will be retroactive to all previously allocated federal-aid secondary funds which are unobligated by awards or authorization to proceed with the work, the department said.

Generally, the counties in which the matching state funds will be eliminated are the largest and poorest.

The new formula for state participation was worked out by a committee of the Illinois Association of County Highway Superintendents and the State Highway Division.

Morgan County Highway Superintendent Reavis Drake said that the withdrawal of state aid, will "definitely effect the county highway program."

"I was notified a week ago Thursday of the state's proposal," Drake said that this would go into effect immediately.

Drake said that Morgan county will now have to match federal aid money 100% in order to receive any help from the government on road building.

He explained that motor fuel tax fund money is used for 5 maintenance of county roads. "I'm sure that our program won't move as fast as it has been," Drake commented.

The committee was set up after Virdeen E. Staff, chief state highway engineer, told the superintendents in November that not enough state funds were available to continue the matching program on the old basis.

Under the former arrangement, the state contributed about $7.9 million annually and counties $4.5 million toward matching federal grants for secondary road projects.

Counties which will receive no state contribution are: Adams, Boone, Bureau, Champaign, Christian, Coles, Cook, DeKalb, DeWitt, Douglas, DuPage, Grundy, Henry, Kane, Kankakee, Kendall, Knox, Lake, LaSalle, Lee, Livingston, Logan, McHenry, McLean, Madison, Morgan, Peoria, Piatt, Rock Island, Sangamon, Stephenson, St. Clair, Tazewell, Vermilion, Whiteside, Will, Winnebago and Macon.

FAMILIAR FEELING

LEXINGTON, KY. — (NEA) — Adolph Rupp, the Kentucky basketball coach, was driving to a game in Atlanta where the Wildcats were to play Georgia Tech.

He stopped at a gas station and, while waiting for the attendant to finish his work, spied a strange figure shooting an imaginary basketball at an imaginary basket.

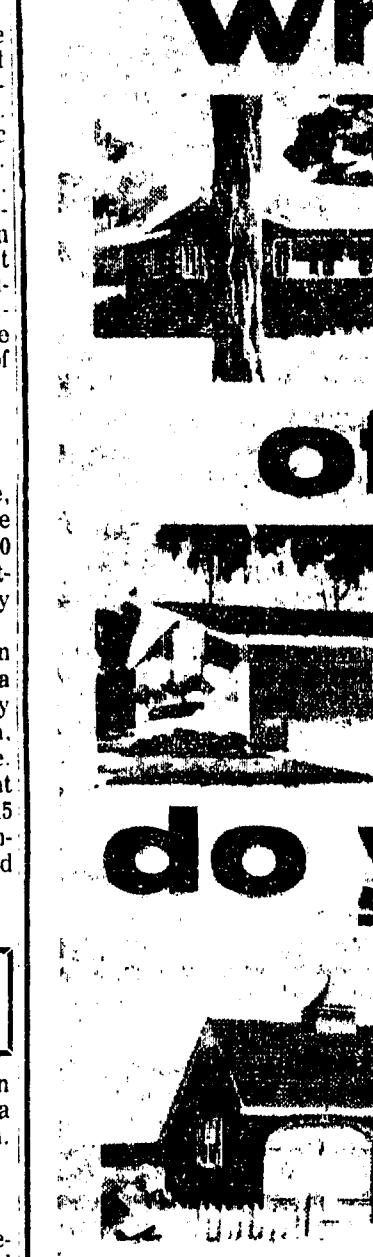

"What's that guy doing?" Rupp asked the attendant. "Oh," came the reply, "he used to be our high school basketball coach. Don't pay any attention to him, he's slightly off his rocker."

"Tell him to keep on shooting," replied Rupp. "If we lose this game to Tech, I'll be back to guard him."
